DESCRIPTION

This basement/lower ground retail unit is tucked away in Diss Town Centre and provides a unique retail or office space.

Steps lead down to the property, where a door opens into the main retail space. To the side is an additional room which could be used as further professional space or storage. In recent years the space has been subdivided into two separate rooms but could easily be reincorporated into a single space if required.

Although not located within the demise of the unit, the Tenants will have access to a communal kitchen and wc facilities located within the main building at 23 St Nicholas Street. These facilities are shared with 3 other Tenants.

There is also an external display cabinet/store which will be available for Tenants to use.

LOCATION

Diss is a popular market town on the on the Norfolk/ Suffolk border, with its excellent transport links including a direct rail line to London – and a rich mix of independent retailers and national businesses. The town serves a wide rural catchment area, drawing regular visitors from surrounding villages.

The property is located on St Nicholas Street with nearby occupiers including Albrights, Whittley Parish, Diss Corn Hall, Durrants, DesignerMakers, Diss Town Council and The Tudor Bakehouse.

SERVICES

We understand the property is connected to mains electricity. All utility charges will be the responsibility of the Tenant.

(Durrants have not tested any apparatus, equipment, fittings or services and so cannot verify they are in working order)
